Parent Teacher Dec. 2 & 3

As with last year, parents will receive a link and information about booking their parent teacher conference online. Teachers look forward to connecting with all families at this time. For those unable to access the internet, telephone conferences can be arranged with the teacher. We look forward to the time when we can meet in person, but until then, your continued support and involvement at home is crucial for student success.

Winter Weather

Now that the cold weather is here little ones need warm hats, mittens boots and snow pants. (Don't forget to label all outerwear with your child's name.)

The wind chill can lower the air temperature quite dramatically throughout the day. A warm morning can quickly turn into a much colder afternoon. Weather permitting, students are outside during morning recess ,lunch recess and for many gym classes. Even more reason why children need warm outerwear each day.

Principal's Post

It never ceases to amaze me the way children are able to pivot in the face of the rapid- fire change that we have experienced over the past year and a half. Given the many blocks of absences from school, the increasing reliance on technology in education and the everchanging protocols due to the pandemic, our students have had to adapt at an incredible rate. Not a day goes by that I don't learn something about what resilience looks like by my daily walk-throughs and interactions with our students. Looking at our assessment results is further evidence that our children are increasing their problem-solving skills and view education as an important aspect of their daily lives and one of the keys to a brighter future.

As we enter into the festive season, on behalf of the staff of Norton Elementary School, we wish you all a healthy, happy and peaceful holiday and best wishes in the new year.

From NESPA:

Thank you to everyone who supported the Picadilly coffee fundraiser this year. Orders should arrive at the school before the Christmas Break.

Picture orders have been sent home. We are still waiting for the retake orders and will send them home as soon as they arrive.

Best wishes for the holidays and for health and happiness throughout the coming year.
