

Sentence Combining

1. My brother always cheers for the underdog.
 2. I always cheer for the underdog.
-

1. I don't like cereal.
 2. I do like watching cereal commercials.
-

1. I find most of my classes boring.
 2. English is an exception.
-

1. I usually watch television when I get home.
 2. Sometimes I do homework.
-

1. Money can't buy happiness.
 2. Some people say that.
-

1. My brother always cheers for the underdog.
 2. I always cheer for the underdog.
 3. Our father picks the favourite.
-

1. Our school has an attendance policy.
 2. Students are supposed to arrive to all classes on time.
-

1. Canada was once a land of open spaces.
 2. Now, many cities are badly congested.
-

1. Tall office buildings have been built downtown.
 2. Single-family homes are being replaced by apartment buildings.
-

1. Everywhere, new highways are being built.
 2. The highways cannot handle all the traffic.
-