

The three puppies in distir...

On a sunny day in the summer my two puppy sisters were playing in the front yard when they heard the dinner bell. Dig Dig, it went. They ran to the back house to eat. When they got in the house and into their puppy room I was already eating away. When Cate and Leandra started eating I was done eating, and I went outside to play until my two sisters came out to play with me. When I was outside I started to chase a squirrel and I got stuck in a green pipe. Meanwhile when Cate was done her food she came out to play with me. However, when she got outside, she heard a wining sound wine wine! Cate followed the sound to a pipe. Inside Cate saw me... me stuck in the pipe! Cate tried to get me out by getting into the pipe. That didn't work because she just got stuck to! Next, when Leandra was done her food she came out, and heard the wining sound. Leandra followed the sound to us, and she tried to get us out but Leandra just got stuck to. Meanwhile in the back yard, Morgan was looking for us. "We hear it but we can't see it" I said. Morgan finally heard us wining and wining. Morgan tried to get us out but we were too far apart. Morgan tried and tried and tried. Finally, Morgan gave up. She went inside and then came back out. She is sleeping out in a tent! In the morning a big machete came and dig a hole in the ground. Next a different machete and cut a hole in the pipe. Then Morgan poked all three of us out of the pipe. Right then everyone started cooking when they stoped we went in and had a bath. After that I never chased a squirrel again, and that is how the story ends on a nice sunny summer day.

The end! ❗
