

A journey of a thousand miles starts with one step

~Lao-tzu

Be the change you want to see in the world.

~Gandhi

The little things can be larger than the big things, as long as you mean it.

~Ashley Marie

The size of you or your action makes no difference. You can't sit and wait around for someone else to do it, if you want something to change you need to stand up and do it. Your action will seem small at first, but soon it will grow, and the little things will turn into the big things.
