If students take all four courses listed under Primary Courses, the fourth course can be counted here as an elective.

If students take all four courses listed under Primary Courses, the fourth course can be counted here as an elective.

^ These courses may count toward the Principal's Certificate. Normally, only those working towards the Principal's Certificate can take ED6403 and ED6413. Also, in order to take ED6403 and ED6413, applicants must have 3 years of teaching experience (or equivalent).

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. How many credit hours do I need to qualify for Certification VI?

30 credit hours. Upon successful completion of your studies, you will be eligible to apply for Certification VI through the NB Office of Teacher Certification.

2. How do courses get approved for the Certificate VI?

Individuals must verify that each course is suitable for the requirements for a Certificate VI by contacting the New Brunswick Office of Teacher Certification.

3. What is involved in the major research project option?

In this option, instead of electives the student would complete an independent research project with the guidance of one of Crandall's professors.

4. I have already taken the "Learning for Teaching: Behavioural Tools for Teaching Learners with ASD" course offered by Education and Early Childhood Development. Could I receive a transfer credit for this course?

Yes, this course may serve as an equivalent to 3 credit hours toward M.Ed. electives. The Registrar's office will transfer in level 2 of the training if it was completed in the past five years and if a B- grade was achieved. If students transfer in level 2, they will be unable to complete ED6816 – Autism Spectrum and Emotional and Behavioural Disorders due to the overlap of content.

5. What courses are eligible to apply to the Principal's Certificate?

Students completing the M.Ed. can choose to take three courses that may be applied towards a Principal's Certificate (ED6403, ED6413, ED6616). Note: Students are required to have three years of teaching experience (or equivalent) to be eligible to enroll in ED6403 and ED6413.

6. When can I start my M.Ed.?

You can begin your M.Ed. studies in the spring/summer, fall or winter semester.

7. How long does it take to complete the M.Ed.?

The M.Ed. program usually can be completed in 16 months or four semesters. Our Registrar's Office will work with you to determine a time-line for completion.

8. How do I know if I'm eligible to apply to the program?

Students are eligible to apply to the M.Ed. program if they have one year of teaching experience together with a strong academic record.

9. How do I apply and what is the process involved?

You can begin the application process by applying on-line to Graduate Studies in Education at Apply Now – Crandall University. Application documents required to accompany your application are outlined on our website at this link. There is a $100 application fee that can be paid at the time you apply.
