

After School Art Program

The Estey Art Initiative Inc. is a non profit organization that inspires and initiates the act of art-making; instilling life long benefits through the creative process.

This weekly class is open to students in grades 3, 4, & 5 at New Maryland Elementary School. Participants will learn how to create a wide variety of subjects, including animals, people, cartoon characters, buildings, landscapes, and more! Students will explore the fundamental elements of art through a variety of drawing, colouring techniques, media, learning to convey mood and emotion with line and colour, how to create movement, perspective, dimension etc. Jennifer and her team have developed a series of weekly step by step projects that are fun, easy to follow, and creates confidence in the children's abilities. Every session is different, encouraging students to return each year.

All ability levels are welcome!

The only requirement is a positive attitude!

All supplies are provided and included in the cost of the course. Students receive a sketchbook on the first day of class and need to bring this sketchbook with them every week. All curriculums and classes are designed and taught by our team of artist instructors, and lead by artist and executive director, Jennifer Krueger.
