

UNB Day

Welcome back to school from the University of New Brunswick! My name is Kate Shipley, your student recruiter from UNB. I am excited to be working with you for this coming school year!

As a result of current school restrictions, we have discovered new and engaging ways to communicate with and support high school students.

We have scheduled a virtual presentation or a “UNB Day” for your school on October 14th or 15th for interested students! These one-on-one meetings will be available throughout the day and can be scheduled for students working from school or at home. Please sign up in the Guidance Center for these sessions.

Students considering UNB as a post-secondary destination can gain more information by visiting:

Set up a one-on-one meeting

Speak with one of our recruiters via phone call or video chat. Students get to choose if they would like to meet for 15 or 30 minutes, as well as the date and time that best fits their schedule!

Book a virtual campus tour

Join one of our tour guides for an in-depth view of UNB Fredericton or UNB Saint John. Interested in a specific program or faculty? We'll personalize the tour just for you!

Attend a virtual event

We have an entire lineup of brand-new events happening online this fall, including our Virtual Open House in November. Remember, students will have to RSVP in advance in order to get the link. These sessions will provide tremendous insight on all aspects related to UNB. Students are encouraged to attend.

Sign up for fast-track admissions

No need to wait to hear if students have been accepted to their program. Complete an application and submit your transcript at least 24 hours before any virtual event and we'll give them a personal phone call with the result.
