From Mrs. Carhart

This week we have focused on the final assessment of our students. In some cases that has meant traditional exams and in others it has meant various forms of demonstration of learning. The weather was not on our side, so families, students and staff had to pivot to accommodate as best as possible. A big thank you to everyone for your patience as we sorted through all of this.

As we look towards the start of a new semester it is a good time to ask of our families to make sure that you take a moment to follow us on Twitter/Facebook or Instagram if possible. Communication is important to us and we do post to these platforms promptly when there are changes/updates or information to be shared.

The new semester also brings a celebration of the past. Keep an eye out for our upcoming Honors/High Honors Ceremony where we will be recognizing the achievements of those students in high academic standing!

Have a wonderful weekend,

Mrs. Carhart
